About the South East Europe Summer Academy:

The South East Europe (SEE) Summer Academy "Human Rights in Action" was held for the first time in 2012. The regional training in the field of democratic citizenship and human rights education is organised annually by the Ministry of Education and Sports Montenegro, the Bureau for Educational Services, Montenegro, the Council of Europe (CoE) and the European Wergeland Centre (EWC).

The aim of the training is to strengthen the capacity of teachers and their school heads, as well as representatives from NGOs or parents' associations to implement and promote EDC/ HRE principles and practices in their schools and communities in South East Europe. Participants are invited to take part in the training as a team of 3 members. Furthermore, the Academy aims to strengthen the cooperation between the participating countries through the exchange of experiences and good practices in the field.

The SEE Summer Academy is in line with the principles and policies of the CoE Charter on Education for Democratic Citizenship and Human Rights Education and based on several CoE manuals designed to support the implementation of the Charter in practice.

General approach:

Using CoE tools, the Academy model follows a whole-school approach to EDC/ HRE and addresses different spheres of school life, such as teachers' competences, learning and teaching activities, democratic school governance and partnership with the local community. This approach encourages the active participation of all stakeholders of school life in building an environment, where principles of human rights and democracy can be learned and practices. The SEE Summer Academy is composed of the following 3 phases:

Phase 1: Online preparatory phase – introduction to the training (May to June 2014)

This phase is designed as an introduction to the residential seminar. The main aim is to get to know each other and to get familiar with selected CoE teaching materials including EDC/ HRE concepts, approaches, learning and teaching activities.

Phase 2: Residential seminar (20-28 June 2014)

The residential seminar is the core of the Academy. The trainers and participants work face-to-face together, and share their experiences with implementing EDC/ HRE. Participants analyze the current situation in their school and community and reflect on their practice in view of EDC/HRE principles. Based on this analysis, and supported by a trainer, each team develops an action plan with concrete local activities and projects addressing challenges faced in their school and/ or community.

Phase 3: Follow-up (July-January 2015)

This phase supports participants in implementing their local EDC/ HRE projects (action plans). The projects are expected to be implemented during the school year 2014/2015. Throughout this phase, a trainer provides ongoing support to all teams via EWCs' online platform Share&Connect. Particular attention is given to ongoing collaboration, discussion and exchanges of experiences, as well as networking between participants and trainers.

Alumni Academy Network:

Given the interest of former Academy participants to continue with school-wide EDC/ HRE efforts and their professional development, the EWC set up an online Alumni network. This network connects all alumni participants of any Academy training. It creates exchanges of experience and good practices between former and new participants, and it supports local and national initiatives and actions based on the principles and values of the Summer Academy programme. You can also find cooperation partners for bilateral or multilateral projects. After completing the Academy you will be invited to join this network.

Target groups and profile of participants:

Participants are invited to join the Academy as a team of three members. Each team consists of two representatives from the same school, including the school head and a teacher, together with one representative of a) an NGO that already cooperates with the school or wishes to do so or b) a parent association.

The Academy is available for teams from the following countries: Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, Greece, Montenegro, Romania, Serbia, Slovenia, the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Turkey and Kosovo.¹
